CHESSON, Adrian is eligible to stand for election as a resident of the Shire of Merredin.

I have lived in rural WA for the majority of my working life, and 30 of those years have been in the Wheatbelt where my wife and I raised our six children.

I am passionate about rural WA, particularly the natural environment and the economic benefits it can deliver our communities.

I have a wide range of skills gained during my working and volunteer life that includes, local and state government compliance, incident management (mostly within the bushfire space), environmental project development and delivery. If elected, as well as committing to ensure good governance, my intention will be to advocate for better environmental management within the shires reserves and enhance the visitor experience within the shires reserve network.
